RES MANAGEMENT

WINDSOCKS

RES Management manufacture a range of windsocks from high visibility 130gsm high density warp knitted polyester, providing a more durable and light fast stable alternative to the traditional nylon materials.

Our windsocks are finished with a plastic hoop as standard, with aluminium hoops as an option. The joining is felled providing maximum strength ensuring the edge of the fabric is interlocked into the seam, and the fly end is reinforced with polyester tape and anti fray netting as standard.

To compliment our standard windsocks we offer a customised range. Made from 160gsm woven polyester these are produced from stock shades of material with an individual logo screen-printed or appliquéd in 110gsm polyetex HD. For that truly unique windsock, full photographic imaging utilising our state of the art Chameleon print process can be adopted to produce an unparalleled visual image.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The Union Flag, commonly known as the Union Jack, should be flown with the broad white band of the St. Andrew's cross above the red band of St. Patrick's cross in the upper hoist corner. When flown amongst other national flags the Union Flag should be flown from the largest flagpole, or if the flagpoles are the same height, from the left most pole. RES Management will not supply defaced Union Flags unless there is written approval from the Government. All British flags are normally only available in a proportion of 2:1, other sizes are available on request.

FLAG SIZES

The size of a flag is measured by its length or fly, and this is governed in yards. The shorter breadth is known as its hoist. Approximate size is determined by the height at which the flag is flown. The simple rule to determine this is 1 yard for every 10' of flagstaff. Therefore a 25', free standing, flagpole would require a 2 ½ yard flag and 40' flagpole would require a 4 yard flag. Different considerations apply when the flag is flying from a flagstaff on the top of a building. Here size is based on the overall proportions of the flag. In order to ensure that the flag appears aesthetically correct when flying, one should generally adopt a scale of 1sq.foot of flag per 1 linear foot of height.

Please remember, this is a general rule and may not apply in all situations

FLAG CARE

Just how long a flag lasts is an impossible question to answer, but you can help extend your flag's life by following a few simple rules

DO NOT fly a flag at night

Apart from being improper practice, it unnecessarily reduces the lifespan of the flag

ALWAYS allow a flag to dry before folding

This prevents mildew

ALWAYS bring a flag down in severe weather

WASH your flag

On a regular basis, every two weeks or, in heavily polluted areas, every week

Washing Instructions

Woven polyester flags require a warm wash of 40 degrees C and knitted polyester a hot wash of 60 degrees C. Use any proprietary brand of washing powder. This point can not be emphasised too strongly, dirt and acids that are carried in the atmosphere destroy the material. If these are not washed off degradation will rapidly take place and the lifespan of your flag will be dramatically reduced. If flags are left too long before cleaning the task becomes almost impossible

REPAIR

Flags should be returned to RES Management for repair at the first sign of wear.

DO NOT DRY CLEAN
